

I believe the government should deregulate the telephone industry. The rules should be the same for everybody and let true competition figure out who should be in the business. UNE-P should be abolished as soon as possible. Please don't listen to all the consumer groups that have a opinion that is shaped by their bank accounts.

I also believe the FCC should have a standing committee that is constantly monitoring the events of today. The triennial approach is far to long of a time to wait for review. This industry changes way to fast for that period of time.

Thank you for my chance to voice an opinion and I hope it helps in the way you shape your decision.
